

The Department of Justice Office of the Inspector General (OIG) released the following statement in response to information in a media report, U.S. Justice Department looking into U.S. Attorney Amanda Marshall's relationship with employee, by The Oregonian/Oregon Live on March 13, 2015:

The statements in the article attributed to a lawyer for U.S. Attorney Marshall do not accurately represent the position of the OIG. Consistent with our policies regarding OIG investigations, we will not comment further.
