FORMER FCI BUTNER CORRECTIONAL OFFICER SENTENCED FOR CRIMINAL
SEXUAL ABUSE OF A WARD

NEW BERN - The United States Attorney for the Eastern District of North Carolina, John Stuart Bruce, announced that today in federal court, United States District Judge Louise W. Flanagan sentenced CALVIN TERRANCE DAVIS, 46, of Spring Lake, N.C., to 13 months of imprisonment followed by 5 years of supervised release.

DAVIS was named in a one-count Criminal Information on May 18, 2017. On June 15, 2017, he pled guilty to one count of Criminal Sexual Abuse of a Ward.

On May 19, 2016, a Bureau of Prison (BOP) inmate, housed at the Federal Correctional Institution in Butner, North Carolina (FCI Butner), informed staff that she had been sexually assaulted by Correctional Officer CALVIN TERRANCE DAVIS on May 18, 2016. According to the victim, DAVIS forced the victim to perform oral sex on him.

Investigators collected clothing that belonged to the victim and sent it to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) lab for processing. A lab test confirmed that semen was present on the clothing, and a subsequent DNA test resulted in a positive match for DAVIS's DNA.

The criminal investigation of this case was conducted by the U.S. Department of Justice, Office of the Inspector General. Assistant U.S. Attorney Scott A. Lemmon prosecuted the case for the government.
