10 child predators arrested in joint operation with Madison County District Attorney's Office

Published on June 16, 2025

Ten individuals are facing a combined 34 charges following a successful two-day joint operation carried out by the Huntsville Police Department \(HPD\) in partnership with the Madison County District Attorney's Office.

The operation, held June 13–14, proactively focused on identifying and arresting individuals attempting to engage in unlawful sexual activity with minors. Undercover officers posed as minors in online forums and messaging platforms. Each suspect initiated contact, believing they were communicating with an underage child, and arranged to meet in person to exchange money or goods for sex acts.

"This operation is part of HPD's unwavering commitment to protect our children from online predators," said Police Chief Kirk Giles. "We will continue to work aggressively to identify, investigate and bring these offenders to justice."
